

The family of
Jacob Benton Delk
(1810 - 1882)

Alma Anne Crowell
(1810 - 1868)

As compiled by James V. Delk, Rte. 4, 154 Sunset Dr., Whitwell, TN in 1997-8 with the support of and assistance from a host of dear souls, both names and unnamed. Credit is given to the list that follows, without whose assistance the listing of descendants could not have been compiled. References are here made to the efforts of V. R. Delk, Box 16027, Hattiesburg, Mississippi; Paul Delk, now deceased; Kate Crowell Reese, also now deceased; and Judith Jo Wakeman each of whom has compiled much information on other dimensions of the Delk and related families.

As we begin this effort it seems appropriate to make several notes, even if they seem unrelated to each other.

This project began in June 1997 as the result of a promise to V. Randolph, Hattiesburg, MS to gather a list of the descendants of Jacob Benton Delk for a book he is compiling of the broader Delk family in America. James Delk had considerable bits of that data and the promise seemed relatively simple; he would put together what he had, make a few phone calls, and send what he then had to Box 16027, Hattiesburg, MS. He got interested in the effort and set out to actually strive for a near complete list. Your judgment of what follows is solicited; it is not complete, but it is nearly so. Your judgment is solicited.

Care needs to be taken to point out that James V. Delk compiled the data; it is actually being supplied by the host of good folks named herein --plus many unknown people whose efforts can never be acknowledged. He does not warrant the complete accuracy of any of the material but does believe that it is largely a correct listing. Your attention to the detail is appreciated. Correction and additions continue to be sought. Send new material to James V. Delk, Rte. 4, 154 Sunset Dr., Whitwell, TN.

Let us also acknowledge how kind so many of the folks named herein were when asked to help supply information. A brief survey of memory seems to show almost no one who did not respond to our phone calls and other requests. Some of you I knew; with some of you I had never had contact; some of you were close kin; with others there was no known kin connection. You were all very nice.

Every effort, certainly every written effort carries with it the editor's bias. Certainly that is true here. James Delk believed that an English outline, complete with big numbers, big letters, little numbers and little letters, et al was not appealing. Therefore the prose stories were inserted in an effort to make this presentation readable. Because he knew more about some portions of this family than other, more stories are inserted in those locations.

James Delk was 47 years old when this project commenced. Let him editorialize and urge each of you to begin before that age to value those who have gone before us. Much of the material herein contained might well have been more accurate and easier to garner had those who knew been asked before that they crossed over into the great beyond that awaits us all. Ask your folks who you are while you still have time and opportunity. Know also that James Delk is a member of the Whitwell church of Christ, where he has served as an elder. That bias is reflected herein.

One would like to note credit to the dear soul(s) who supplied most of the Molder records but as they were assimilated into the Crowell records noted below one is unsure whom to thank. Kate Crowell Reese of Chelsea, Ala's book The William Crowel Family in the United States was utilized. This was the initial effort to record info. on the Crowell family and was issued in about 1975 or so. Judith Jo Wakeman has updated the Crowell data about every two years since. J.C. "Clarence" Kennedy's handwritten History of the Kettle Mills community in Maury Co., TN was consulted. This 40 or so page handwritten booklet was written about 1962; a typed copy was included in the Hampshire "Tenn. State Bicentennial Project" book available from Betty Patton, Hwy 166, Hampshire, TN. The book is a 3" thick listing of memories of that village and sells for $25 in 1997. A transcription of J.C. Kennedy's history is attached in the Appendix, below. Some information was obtained therefrom. The dates of Jacob Benton Delk's and Alma Anne Crowell's death, together with some other small bits of information, were obtain from the minute book of the Liberty Baptist Church, the original of which is in the possession of Joe Delk, Columbia, TN. The book on the Grimmit family by David Price provided information about the Gus Smith family and some others. The 1907 Maury County history, Maury County 1807-1907 was helpful. Paul Delk's Big Delk Book was not available for inspection as this was compiled but much of the information seems likely to have come from that effort. A partial copy was available late in the effort (for which I owe William F. Rhodes, Broken Arrow, OK.) It is currently in possession of Mrs. Mike (Debra) Martin, Killen, AL. Before her death in 1971 Annie Porter Delk Kennedy wrote out for each of her children a handwritten notebook of notes on her family. Portions of these notes were made available by Sam Kennedy and Frances Logsdon, and were utilized. Portions of the new Perry County History (basically contributions of Kitty E. Savage) were sources of some data. That volume quotes from the Cathey Family History and Genealogy, Vol 1, by Boyt Henderson Cathey

Jacob Benton Delk (10 May 1810 - 15 July 1882) married Alma Anne "Anne" Crowell (14 February 1810 - 12 May 1868), dau. of Samuel Crowel, son of William Crowel, grandson of Peter Krowl (Grauel), who came to Philadelphia November 25, 1742 on the Loyal Judith then recently from Rotterdam. The Crowell (formerly Crowel, Krowl, Grauel) family seems to have come from western Germany. Reference is here made that the will of Peter Krowl is preserved and is written in a mixture of German and Dutch.

Children and descendants of Jacob Benton Delk and Alma Anna Crowell:

- I. Samuel Gill Delk (10 June 1833 - 29 December 1898) married Isabella White Anderson (18 September 1837- August 1917), dau. of William Anderson and Jane Anderson.

[William Anderson (1803 - 1847, buried in Crowell-Anderson Cemetery in Bedford County, TN) was the son of David Anderson (29 December 1772 - 22 March 1858) and Isabella White Rogers (17 November 1777 - 25 September 1847), both David and Isabella are said [credit Jas. Percy Crowell, now deceased] to be buried in unmarked graves in the Anderson-Crowell Cemetery also; Jane Anderson was the daughter of Richard "Kettle Dick" Anderson and Mary Margaret Craig. David and Richard Anderson were bros. who came to Tennessee from N. Carolina near the winter of 1804-5 [Their brother Robert was here earlier; their brother James came also]; William and Jane were then first cousins. Jane Anderson is also half sister to Josephine Anderson [wife of William C. Kennedy and mother of R.A. Kennedy, q.v. all herein.]]

[Mrs. Gill Anderson, Nashville, TN, Frankie Mitchell, Duck River, TN, Sloan Anderson, et al have done rather extensive research seeking to trace this Anderson family back into North Carolina. To date, the effort has been without success; there are just too many Andersons. H.G. Kennedy reports that their fathers, i.e. of Richard, & David [together with brothers Robert & Jim, are said by tradition to have died in Buncombe County, N.C. Additional questions can be directed to Mrs. Jimmy (Betty) Patton, Hampshire, TN, q.v. herein.]

[Samuel Gill Delk and Isabella Anderson made their home in the Delk Bend portion of the Kettle Mills. Paul Delk records that "Samuel Gill Delk (1833 - 1898) married Isabella White Anderson (1837 - 1917) in Bedford Co., Tennessee across the river from Crowell's Chapel where Grandma was living with some of her people. They came to Delk's Bend in Maury County in 1854 when Grandpa was 21 years old. They settled on land that Grandma inherited from the Andersons [See Richard "Kettle Dick" Anderson's will in the Appendix herein.] They lived just below the Delk Cemetery. One day the next year Grandpa heard someone stalled down in the slough (Down by the island where folks crossed the river oftentimes, jw). He told Grandma that he believed that (it) sounded like Pa and Joshua. Grandma had her doubts, but when Grandpa went down to see, sure enough it was his father Jacob Benton Delk. He asked him where in the world he was going. Jacob B. Delk told him that he had bought the land just up the river (where Edward Blair Delk now lives). It just so happened that this fellow Smith had sold him land next to where his son Samuel Gill Delk was living."]

[In 1896 the Skipper family on the head of Blue Buck Creek in Hickman County became embroiled in a family disagreement over how to divide their daddy's estate. One of them filed a bill in Chancery Court in Centerville to sell the property, 385 acres of basically timbered ridges on the north side of the ridge on which the Natchez Trace passes. S.G. Delk sent J.V. Delk, his son, to Centerville on the court date for the purpose of bidding on the property. On the way there he met up with his cousin R.A. Kennedy, q.v. herein, who traveled for the same purpose. The plan had been to divide the property, if successfully bid, in halves between S.G. and J.V. Delk; the plan changed to include Anderson Kennedy (and divide the property in thirds). The judge announced the court costs incurred as the minimum bid, $119.43 (or something very near that). J.V. Delk bid that amount and found it, even after a long dinner break, not raised. The judge ordered the property sold to J.V. Delk for that amount. The family got nothing. S.G. Delk died in 1998; his $40 portion of their property was omitted from the administration of his estate and remained the property of the S.G. heirs until the 1970's or so when it together with the 2/3 that came to belong to J.V. Delk (he bought R.A. Kennedy's third soon after the sale) [His 2/3 was inherited by Floyd Delk, and then by his wife Mary McFadden Delk] was sold to Carl Harris, Jr, son of Robert Carl Harris, Sr. and Lucille Delk; all q.v. herein.]

[James V. Delk remembers the property as something like a private park of nearly 400 acres of timber. It was a quiet and pleasant place to roam. There were small water falls, on one of which had been a tub mill. The stones were still there until someone came a got them. He remembers finding one of them turn upright one day. Allen Delk discussed bringing them back to Cathey's Creek but decided against doing so because "They (were) not ours; they belong(ed) with the land." But somebody else did not think so.]

A. William Leftwich Delk (7 September 1855 - 22 May 1918) married Bertha Elizabeth Vestal (8 December 1858 - 8 May 1926), dau. of Williams Vestal and Hannah Judd (born 22 October 1831).

[Williams died young leaving only two children, Bertha Elizabeth and Jo Anna. Jo Anna "Anna" married William Albert "Albert" Kittrell, who lived on Catheys' Creek n. Hampshire, Tn. Hannah Judd was the dau. of Daniel Judd and Diana (Dious) Cole. Diana Cole was said by Dan Delk to be a sister to the mothers of both Frank and Jesse James, and Cole Younger. Hannah Judd married second to Enoch Galloway; they had four children who are named in the Appendix, below. Williams Vestal was the son of J.T. Vestal and Mary ____.

[Frances Logsdon of Columbia, TN indicates that she has an older picture of three ladies that she believes to be of Diana Cole Judd and the two sisters identified above.]

[The 1880 census of Maury Co., TN records this family as W.M., Lizzie, and Albert Delk; ages 25, 21, & 1. One does not know from where the M came; maybe from a census taker's mistake. --maybe he wrote W.M. or Wm.]

1. William Albert Delk (24 October 1878 - 7 March 1894). Died at age of 15 of pneumonia while boarding at Isom to attend school there. He is buried there in the Kittrell Cemetery on Cathey's Creek behind the Cathey's Creek church of Christ building, Maury Co., TN.

[His parents et al were later buried there despite the fact that it is several miles from their home. The reasoning given was that he was already buried there. Note the dates: 1894, 1918, and 1926. See note at the unnamed child numbered 7. below. Note also the dates where they lived near that locale (1884-1891 approx.)]

2. Daniel McLean Delk (18 January 1881 - 7 September 1969. buried in the Dunlap (Old Stand) Cemetery near Shady Grove, in Hickman County, TN) married Eunice Church (ca. 1885 - 12 August 1945, buried in the Dunlap (Old Stand) Cemetery), dau. of Sam Church and Sue Totty; and brother to Buck Church..

[Eunice Church is said to have been twin sister to E.B. Church and sister to Mrs. Bob Cummins. Credit Michelle Jenkins.]

- a. Elizabeth "Betsy" Delk (born 23 Jan 1908 - 9 April 1991) married James Wesley "Jim" Morrow (22 May 1904 - 23 June 1987), son William Ooty Morrow and Rebecca Catherine Ballard.
  - 1). Kathryn L. Morrow -never married [Lives at 749

Buccaneer Blvd., Tavares, FL 32778; (352) 343-4645]
2). James Kenneth (Jimmy) Morrow married Barbara Brown,, dau. of Chas Brown and Ruby Cole.

[Edward Delk, q.v. herein below, was buried on Saturday, October 15, 1977. He had for a number of years possessed the chief leadership position in the Kettle Mills church of Christ. That Saturday Allen Delk asked Ed's oldest son Eddie Blair Delk who would teach the Sunday school class the next morning in the Kettle. "Cousin Allen, I will be there and I will be prepared, but Jimmy Morrow is going to teach it. He is living there almost next to the building, and it needs to be his responsibility to assume the leadership. I live in town; while I could do it, the leadership needs to be with folks who live there." Eddie Blair was prepared, but Jimmy did teach the class and has, we hear, assumed the leadership of the congregation for the now twenty years plus that have lapsed since 1977. James V. Delk stopping at Jack Cecil's store after the funeral and remembers hearing Jimmy on that day in 1977 holding forth as how all the "good people in the Kettle were gone". He also remembers telling Jimmy that he had a responsibility to step up and be "One of those 'good people.'" Jimmy did, and is to be given credit --along with all who step forward to assume the slack that is before them-- for taking of the responsibility that others have left to them.]

[James Delk worked for J.M. and Carolyn in their grocery store in Hampshire, TN from June 1968 until about June 1970 during his first two years of college. He remembers Jeff and Debbie as small children who were delights to be around. He supposes he bought them gifts both Christmases but of one in particular he remembers. He had Jeff a sack of little plastic army men, which he, in an effort to keep a 9 year old from guessing as to what it might be, had wrapped in several days worth of newspaper in a paper towel or tissue box (one of the size that held 24 double rolls of paper towels or 48 single packs). Jeff looked at the big box and asked Carolyn, "Reckon Delk has gotten me a motorcycle for Christmas."]

[Allen Delk told more than once that "Uncle Jake" as an elderly bachelor was very attached to children. In his last years he grew especially fond of his nephew Edward Delk's oldest son, Eddie Blair. Allen said that every time that he saw Eddie Blair that he had some candy, trinket, goodie, fruit, etc to give to him, and that likewise when Ed saw him he had something to send to Eddie Blair by him. "Uncle Jake" died at home, at his brother Sam's. Allen told how Edward had been setting up with him those last nights and how hard it was to explain to a three year old why he had not brought back any goodie from the just deceased uncle.]

D. John Alexander Delk (4 January 1861 - 1916) married 6 December 1894 to Alice Cathey (April 1867 or 8 - 1943), sister to Elizabeth Blair Cathey, and et al q.v. herein -- both buried in the Delk Cemetery, Kettle Mills on Duck River between Hampshire and Williamsport, TN. Alice Cathey was the daughter of A.B. Cathey and Tennessee Ella Smith.

[J.C. Kennedy's history of the Kettle Mills lists John Delk, together with R.A. Kennedy (q.v. herein) and Will Morrison as the first elders of the Kettle Mills Church of Christ. This note together with the brief history of the Kettle Mills church of Christ recorded by Fox in 1961 and the record contained in the Liberty Baptist Church minute book (now in the possession of Joe H. Delk, Columbia, TN) reflects the conversion of most of this family to the church of Christ in the mid- 1880's]. The Kettle Mills congregation meets on the south side of the Duck River. The Liberty Baptist Church met on the north side in the Greenfield Bend until 1957. George Delk, William D. Delk (Billy Hunk), and Josh Delk (who is noted herein as serving as a Baptist preacher both in Maury County, and in Dallas and Ellis Counties in Texas) continued as members of the Liberty congregation. The meeting house in the Greenfield Bend was a "union church" given by one of the Greenfield's with provisions for its use by some three of four different religious denominational groups on rotating Sundays. (See Neil Delk for details of deed provisions.) It seems that at least initially everybody went every Sunday but each group was responsible for worship and preaching on "their Sunday". In later years the Liberty Baptist Church and the Greenfield Bend church of Christ both used the building on some kind of Sunday morning, Sunday evening rotation. James V. Delk remembers being present there at least once. To a little boy the building seemed dark. After the Graham School was closed in about 1953 the Greenfield Bend church of Christ bought the school building and began worshiping there. The Liberty Baptist Church had succumbed quite small and last met in 1957 --when the Williamsport Baptist Church was organized. The building remains and is the property of Mrs. Leslie (Barbara) Dycus. This building had, when built early in this century, replaced an earlier building that was off the present road. Neil Delk now owns the property where provisions were made for the original building to be built on land donated by one of the Greenfield's.

Carrie Delk and Marcy Hoover in their lifetimes took active interest in the Kettle Mills church of Christ. Likewise Edward Delk until the week of his death took leadership roll in the congregation. (See note on James Kenneth Morrow above). The other children of John and Alice Delk were active in the Kettle church as long as they were living the the Kettle. When they moved elsewhere they were likewise active wherever they lived. Most of their extended family, even the descendants of William D. and Josh Delk, have counted their membership with the churches of Christ in the years that have followed.]

1. Carrie Delk (born September 1895) married Marcy Hoover. No children. Marcy Hoover was brother to Agnes, Mat, Maude, and Ruth Hoover, all q.v. herein, plus other siblings.

[For the record, Marcy Hoover was the son of Sam Hoover and Amanda Elizabeth Mobley. Sam Hoover first married "Pokie", (thought likely to have been Polka) Baker. They had three children: Robert, Baker, and Annie. Sam Hoover married second Amanda Elizabeth "Bet" Mobley. They had eight (J.C. Kennedy said seven but listed eight names.) children: Marcy, Ed, Sloan, Mat, Maude, Ruth, Agnes, and Claudia. Sam Hoover married third Alma Region. (J.C. Kennedy listed the name as Anna Roberts. But Maude Hoover ought to know and she says Alma Region; Henry Delk confirmed her.) They had four children: Samuel, Mildred, Lucille, and Gene. These lists come from J.C. Kennedy's history of the Kettle Mills community in Maury Co., TN. It was a handwritten history of a rural community written Also some info. comes from Mrs. Clyde (Sara) Farris and Maude Hoover Lovell] on some 40 pages or so of a 7 X 7 or so notebook written about 1960 when he was old and soon after his wife died. A transcribed copy follows in the Appendix, below. Henry Delk noted that Claudia Hoover married Brian Luther and that they adopted one son who had been very good to her in last years. He lives in Texas where Claudia now lives.]

He went by the name "John Gee", spelled John G.

- 3. Lucille Delk (died 3 October 1998, buried in the Delk Cemetery in Maury County, TN) married Robert Carl "Carl" Harris.

[At the time of the Dallas Centennial in 1937, Carl Harris, Ed and Allen Delk flew to Dallas for that 100th anniversary of Dallas and of the state of Texas --and also to visit their kin folks in Texas. One supposes that this was the only time that any of them was ever on an airplane. As they flew over southeastern Arkansas and the rice fields of that area their conversation turned to the fact that the tractors --all of them, it seems-- were green, i.e. John Deere's. Carl and Allen were green tractor people; Ed was a red tractor man (i.e. he owned a Farmall). [Now there were very good reasons why the number of John Deere brand tractors was greater in that country; in that era --in fact until the introduction of the new line in 1960 all John Deere tractors had been two cylinder affairs mostly with the motors mounted crosswise and low in the mid-portion of the frame so that you could almost rest your feet on the motor. This meant the weight of the green tractors was more centered on the rear wheels than was the case in other makes.

Additionally the two-cylinder motors had larger pistons and operated at slower r.p.m. speeds than did the others; therefore the torque was much greater. The higher torque together with the extra weight meant that John Deere tractors could pull more from a dead stop than any other tractor of like horsepower --even in mud in a rice field. But all the actual engineering data was likely not discussed.] When Edward (who was a man of few words) had heard about all he could stand as to how the folks in Arkansas knew good tractors, he observed folks in Arkansas knew good tractors, he observed that he believed that the reason that the rice farmers were using green equipment was because in that swampy country that they must from time to time loose some of them --that they must get so marred up that they could never be retrieved --and that if they were using green tractors that they hadn't lost much. Allen said the conversation changed to some other subject suddenly.]

E. Joshua Vernon "Dollar" Delk (8 January 1863 - 30 October 1944) married 20 December 1892 Emma Jane Thompson (27 February 1869 - 16 January 1939). He was said to have been known as "Dollar" because one of the slaves present when he was born said that his head was, "Round as a dollar."

[Allen Delk told that the well at his parents' home was near the back door out from the kitchen. James Delk remembers it and remembers when the first Myers well pump had to be replaced (it was still working but had rusted off of its mounting.) He is not sure of the details as exactly when they got electricity. It seems from the story that Allen told that his daddy had installed an electric pump in the well soon after the coming of "lights". Anyhow before electricity there had been a catwalk of some kind from the back either of the kitchen or the back porch to the well so that water could be drawn. Allen told that some two or three years after the pump had been installed that one of his parents had walked out onto catwalk and was standing when the other approached and walked out to be together with the first one. The weight of the two was more than the framing would bear. They both fell about 6 to 8 feet to the ground. Dr. Webb was called from Hampshire; when he got there it was said that he could not resist the urge of asking which one of them (one in his mid-70's and the other in her late 60's had "won". The message is that some things are not as they seem. Those who would try the trade of recording history ought to remember that fact.]

1. Howard Porter Delk (19 September 1893 at Kettle Mills, Maury Co., TN - 19 September 1964) married on 19 September, 1920 Nina Mai Mayfield (24 November 1903 in Venus, Ellis Co., TX - 1995), dau. of J. D. "Jaddy" Mayfield (born 11 March 1875 n. Camp Ground community on Swan Creek in Hickman County, TN) and Ida Sisco (born 28, 1879).

[J. D. Mayfield was the son of William Mayfield (born 27 August 1840) and Miriam Prince (died 1889). Wm Mayfield was the son of John Mayfield (born 1806) and Minerva Clayton; he married Miriam Prince in 1864. John Mayfield was the son of Samuel Mayfield and Dycie Rhodes, earlier settlers of Williamson County, TN from NC. Samuel erected the first grist mill on Swan Creek. Minerva Clayton was the daughter of John Clayton. J.D. had brothers and sisters: John Will; J.H., J.S.; Permelia, wife of G.W. Sharp; and Nettie, wife of J.W. Sharp (went to Texas before 1905). He also had half brother and sisters (William married second in 1896 D.M. Ricketts, daughter of William Ricketts and Dora Montague ) Ducie, Buster, Brownie, and Richard. Ducie married Jim Harlan. Jim Harlan's mother was sister to Sam Church and therefore first cousin to Eunice Church. Brownie married Charlie Lovell, q.v. herein. After her death, Charlie married Ruth Hoover, widow of John G. Delk, both q.v. herein. Richard married Willie Vestal Delk, q.v. herein.

Ida Cisco was the daughter of J.S. Cisco and Sarah Sharp. J.S. Cisco was the son of Wm. Cisco and Mary A. Campbell. Sarah Sharp was the daughter of John Sharp and Peggy Whiteside.

Cross reference this record to the notes on the ancestors of James R. and Ernest W. Lowell. This would seem to indicate, but not show conclusively a kinship.]

[Sometime near, actually likely just before, his marriage to Nina, Howard -together with his brother Horace- bought a farm in Roberts' Bend on the north side of the Duck River between Columbia and Williamsport. They paid something in the low thirties for the land and had up in twenty of it paid when the Hoover depression hit. Despite having the farm 2/3 in the clear they still lost that farm. Horace moved back to Cathey's Creek; Howard and Nina (and boys) moved to their Uncle Sam's and worked for him for several years.]

[After living "at Uncle Sam's" through most of the Depression years and throughout the war Howard and Nina again had the opportunity to buy a farm and in 1947 moved up the river one bend to the Brickhouse Bend near where Nina's father and step-mother lived. See Appendix et al for references to Will Southall's parents.]

After they bought the place but before they could move one afternoon a "shirrtail sized" cloud formed and dropped a funnel which picked up the barn and threw it over the house, scattering it on the river bank in front of the house. Behold the wonder of the power of God. Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield who lived in sight of the new farm noticed no cloud; they just looked out and, upon not seeing the barn, called Howard.]

[Hortense Delk, on September 21, 1994, told of the 15 years or so that Howard and Nina lived next to Ed and her, and of how they did things together:

"One time when Howard & Ed picked a day to go fishin' on Swan Nina & I decided we'd go too. We picked bushel baskets of green beans the day before. She and I sat on the banks of Swan Creek & snapped beans all day while Ed & Howard fished. We decided we weren't cooking either; that we were going to eat what the men usually ate when they went to Swan, so we stopped up at Cousin George's store up by Kettle mill & got pork & beans, & vienna sausages; times were hard but those were also good days."].

[Katherine Wilkes tells of an event sometime in about 1946 when James Porter and Mayfield Delk and their cousin John A. Delk one night, in an old car that wasn't running good, were stranded on the side of the English Hill. Allen Delk understood that they had a flat; Kat. says no, that the car just quit. Anyhow they wondered if they were out of gas and looked under the gas cap to measure with a stick or something like you might on a farm tractor. Joe Delk remembered it that the gas line broke. One does not know the details except that they lit a match to see. Now the car was not new, they had made none between February 17, 1942 and June, 1945 --and before that there was the Depression. It may well have been that the car had no gas gauge. However it happened the results are that the car burned. The young men were left on the side of the road with a burnt car belonging to the father of two of them. Jim Morrow (q.v. herein), who was not without faults but who was a very good hearted soul, happened along. He stopped, saw who they were, and offered to take them all home --subject to the one condition: that James Porter and Mayfield would promise him that they would wake up their daddy, Howard, when they got home, and tell him what had happened. Can you imagine how much you would have slept knowing that you had to tell your daddy in the morning that you had burned his only car in an era when he could not easily replace it? Jim Morrow, for all his warts, was not only good hearted, he was also thoughtful.]

[Joe H. Delk, adds to the story that Jake Delk was also along, that the events were on a Sunday night, that Howard had had a Plymouth car with suicide doors. He said that at the time cars were very hard to come by; Daddy said that if you could afford a new one that you still had to wait on a list (basically until the demand by returning soldiers was met). Anyhow Howard finally found a vehicle. James Delk thinks Joe said it was a '37 Dodge. Kathryn Morrow, Jim's daughter, says she understood that Jake was the one who lit the match.]

[Notice how the details expand as more different people add their memories to the events. Take heed that we listen to the multiple accounts of stories that we have already heard.]

[Paul Delk lived most of his life as a farmer on Cathey's Creek. In his later years he spent a great deal of time making doll beds turned with a lathe from small cedar trees. He was quite good working with wood and became "locally famous" as evidenced by newspaper clippings et al, including one recorded from the Daily Herald in the Hampshire bicentennial book to which reference has been made. At the time of that article it is said that he had then made 1,100 of them --all numbered and all containing a plywood bottom with a painted rose on the top and handwritten philosophy and "wise sayings" on the bottom side together with pictures.]

Additionally Paul Delk spent a great deal of time, even in his early years collecting family history. He quoted things from Josh Delk who died in 1923 (when Paul was 19 years old). James V. Delk remembers his getting a "deed book" from the Maury County courthouse and, he thinks, two hundred sheets of huge paper on which he spent hours recording the records he had gathered along with remembrances of living on Cathey's Creek and hand drawn pictures depicting the same. His "Big Delk Book" is now in the care of Mrs. Michael (Deborah) Martin in Killen, AL. For all the efforts he gave to recording his family data this effort is dedicated in part to him. The record of his work, The Big Delk Book, is recorded on microfilm in the Tennessee Library and Archives in Nashville, and microfilm copies are available for sale from there.]

6. Allen Freed Delk (10 March 1906, in Sanger (in Denton Co., TX - 31 March 1998 in Maury Co., TN at age 92, buried in the Swiss Cemetery in Hohenwald, TN) married on 8 July 1949 Mary Mildred Overbey (11 March 1914, in Lewis Co., TN - 20 August 1984 in Columbia, TN, buried in the Swiss Cemetery, off Hwy 20 in Hohenwald, TN), dau. of James Polk Overbey and Mary Dent Hunter.

[Note is here made that J.V. Delk and family moved to Sanger in Denton Co., Texas in 1905 where he worked in a bank. They moved back to Kettle Mills, Maury County, Tennessee in 1908. Allen Delk said that he was told that whoever met the family at the depot in Columbia told them that "John and Alice had had a new baby." --i.e. Edward Blair Delk (born 19 August 1908). J.V. Delk and family moved to a 221 acre farm on Catheys' Creek, n. Hampshire, TN in 1911 using the proceeds of from two sections of Texas panhandle land J.V. Delk has acquired during his tenure in Denton County. He had had two sections near Borger, and later two more at Hereford. After he sold the last two, they doubled in price at least twice and then they struck oil on them.]

[Turner Voss reports that the bank building in question continued in use until very recently. While J.V. Delk was a part of that institution it was reorganized under a state charter; prior to that time it was a private bank. Allen Delk told of being in that bank in 1937 at the time of his visit to the Dallas Centennial. The banker brought out paper that J.V. Delk had signed]

[Allen told of the experiences of the depression. His daddy "Dollar" had borrowed several thousand dollars, maybe four, from the Phoenix National Bank trying to hold the farm that Howard and Horace had in Roberts' Bend. The bank went broke and left him with $1700 on deposit while owing up towards $4000. Allen said a "boy with a briefcase, with the lawyers that were winding up the bank, came out to the home place asking Papa to sign to apply the 30 something cents that the bank was then paying out on deposits against the full dollar of what he owed. I told him, 'Papa, don't you sign that; if they could make you apply less than the full dollar of your deposits against what you owe they wouldn't ask you to sign.' The boy soon went back to town."]

[Over time as the receivership was able to convert more of the bank's assets into cash it would open and pay out a few more cents per dollar until eventually it paid out eighty something cents per dollar. J.V. Delk's $4000 was refinanced and paid down. Allen said that during the war he went into the Farmers' and Merchants Bank in Columbia and told Mr. Welchel or whomever that he wanted to borrow $600 on his name so that he could pay the last of the note that his daddy owed on the land --and thus give him the chance to see a clear title to his farm before he died (in October of 1944).]

[Hard times are by no means unique to our family. But one cannot avoid wondering whether our current society would be as successful at overcoming the events of the Depression and the war that followed as were those of that generation. Neither can one avoid wondering if, if fact, those acts of overcoming did not make better men of those who experienced the 1930's and 40's. (But that does not prevent one from being thankful not to have to experience some of those events again in this age.)]

5. Mary Polka Farris (born 16 November 1909) married Alvin Morrow (4 April 1909 - 18 September 1951).

On one occasion Alvin Morrow went to Montana to see about buying a bull. The version that James Delk heard is that Alvin was met at the depot and ridden out to the ranch where the bull(s) were about which he was interested. The rancher was very solicitous of Alvin's state. "Mr. Morrow, you are not in the South, up here on these high plains you can't do what you can do back home." We are told that Alvin thought the remark was a western yankee's way of putting down our South, implying that southern farmers were so used to having servants "step and fetch" for them that they were too weak to walk. Rather the fact is that the rancher was telling Mr. Morrow that they were enough thousands of feet about sea level that he should be careful. Alvin soon found out what the man meant as he very quickly found himself out of breath.

One ought to be proud of home, wherever home is; one ought to be proud of one's family and their kin, even with all the warts (such as every family possesses). We ought to be proud of our South. But having pride in our home, our family, and our South should not cloud our judgment to the extent that we expect others to be putting us down. The rancher likely had no strong feelings about the South; he was telling Alvin to be careful in the thin air of the Rockies.

[Most of this data of the descendent of Reps Farris and Josie Delk was supplied by Neda Farris Dickey, with help from Sara Whiteside Farris, et al]

J. Sam Henry Delk (9 December 1875 - 1951) married Mabel Ruth "Ruth" Kennedy (25 March 1883 - 1943), dau. of R.A. Kennedy and Elizabeth "Betty" Cathey and sister to H.G., J.C., and Josephine Kennedy, all q.v. herein - No children.

[Sam and Ruth were both good people and active in the church of Christ at Kettle Mills during their entire life times, but had no children. It is told that Sam approached one of his nephews (or other kinsman) with expressed concerns about his playing baseball on Sunday afternoons. "But Uncle Sam, what is the difference between me playing ball on Sunday afternoons and you rushing home just as soon as church lets out so you can listen to the World Series on the radio?" There was no answer.]

[A careful note of when Sam and Ruth died might add some understanding to the account that follows. Sam Delk did well in life as a farmer. When cars again became available after World War II, Sam had one that dated well back into the 1930's and was not all that dependable. Someone suggested, "Mr. Delk, you can get cars now, and you can afford one. You need to go ahead and order one." "Naw, son, I'm an old man and will never have use for going anywhere much; this one will do fine no longer than I will live"]

[But Mr. Delk, you've got plenty of money; you won't be dead six months until your money will have helped buy several cars. You might as well get to drive one of them. He actually did buy a new car; but whether it was because of the conversation recorded above or not, one knows not. I do suppose that he wasn't dead long before his money did; in fact; pay for another car or two, and several other things.]

[Sam and Ruth had no children. Troyce Cavender who was reared in the Kettle Mills community and married Margaret Brown Farris, both q.v. herein, reports that his father Horace's father George died when Horace was very young. Troyce was told that at his daddy and four siblings were divided up in the community and that Horace lived with Sam and Ruth Delk for some period of time. Troyce reports knowing of two uncles, Henry and Ody Cavender, neither of which had any boys. One died in an army hospital during World War Troyce's sister Olive Cavender reports that Horace lived with Sam and Ruth until one of his older sisters married Mr. Kos. Greenfield, after which he moved to Mr. Kos's. In one of the early census's [1910 or 1920] he was counted in Mr. Greenfield's household. These notes are included here in large measure to avoid an unsupported conclusion as to whom Lou Willie Delk, q.v. herein below, married. As this is being written, we have not yet determined whom she married]

II. Frances Catherine Delk (13 November 1836 - 19 February 1891) married first on 2 June 1860 in Maury Co., TN to Robert "Ace" Wiley.

[Paul Delk, in his Big Delk Book, indicated that Robert Wiley was killed in a farm accident when a crib of ear corn fell onto him, smothering him as he sat at its base shucking corn. A number of the records spelled Frances Delk's middle name as KATHERINE but the marriage license list her name as FRANCES C. DELK. Robert's name is listed as ROBERT WYLIE. Katherine Wilkes indicates that the family records show that the correct spelling was CATHERINE, despite spellings to the contrary. Frances Catherine went by CASSIE or CATHERINE. Of her descendants at least three were named for her: Katherine Wiley Wilkes, Josephine Catherine "Cassie" Savage Lewis; Catherine "Cassie" Sharp Bell. Additionally it would seem likely that descendants Katherine Peery Harris and Frances Patton Dooley; and niece Mayce Katherine Southall, were also named for her. Regarding the C versus K spellings, Katherine Wilkes advised that she was named CATHERINE but when she started to school that her first grade teacher spelled her name KATHERINE and taught her to do likewise; the K stuck.]

A. John Benton Wiley (born ca. 1862 in Sanger TX) married Mary Jane Delk, q.v. herein, (4 March 1867 - 11 March 1951), dau. of Samuel Gill Delk and Isabella White Anderson; & granddau. of Jacob Benton Delk and Alma Anne Crowell and of William Anderson and Jane Anderson.

[The 1880 Maury Co., TN census says that John Wiley was living with Jacob Benton Delk. This is consistent with family records that say that Molly and John Wiley were essentially raised together.]

7. Frances Wiley married first George A. Harvell.
  - a. Jane Katherine Harwell (born 1931).married ____
  - Frances Wiley married second Joe Taylor,
  - b. Richard Robert Taylor (born 1946).

[For the record, each of the children of Molly Delk and John Wiley were FIRST, SECOND, and THIRD cousins to Jesse John Wiley, son of John T Wiley and Docia Ann Savage, q.v. herein below.]

Frances Catherine Delk married second 15 June 1863 Jesse James Savage (1 July 1827 - 22 January 1888).

[Jesse James Savage had been married previously to Elizabeth Catherine Region (?) (died 1862) with whom he had 3 daughters, Kate Savage (who was killed by a horse), Mary Elizabeth Savage (1857 -1878) and Lenore Jane Savage (1859 - 1938) (who married William Charter Nichols. They had six children --Homer, Jasper, Viola, Mary Elizabeth, Katy, and Booker --Mary Elizabeth Nichols married Ellis Wiley. Cross reference this to J.C. Kennedy's reference to Ellis Wiley, son of John T. Wiley (which says that Ellis Wiley married Lizzie Nichols)). Viola Nichols married Henry Payne; these are the parents of Docia Mae "Mae" Payne who married Kenneth B. Delk, q.v. herein]

[In the 1950's Henry Payne and Viola Nichols lived on Blue Buck Creek just below the property noted on pages 4 and 5 above that belonged for seventy something years in part to the estate of Samuel Gill Delk. That house was the only inhibited house that James Delk ever saw that did not have electricity. The house was isolated somewhat from other dwellings. He heard Mr. Payne tell about how the Merryweather Lewis Electric Coop wanted him to cut the full right-of-way from the last house with electricity and maybe pay, in part, for the installation of the poles. Such is almost an example why utility companies have the right of eminent domain. If the last man at the end of the light line were totally dependent upon the willingness other folks down the line "letting" them have a line across their property there would always be someone wanting to hold up the process for a big buck. In fact James Delk was told that because two land owners on the lower end of Love's Branch in Maury County did not want electricity [They saw it as a Roosevelt scheme to milk them of their money one monthly bill at a time.] that nobody up that branch above them got the chance to have "lights" for several years afterward (maybe after World War II).]

[After Robert "Ace" Wiley was killed in Texas Frances drew a dowry on a tract of property in Dobbinstown in Maury County between Isom on Catheys' Creek and Hampshire. She and Jesse Savage were living there when some of Robert's family attempted to break the dowry in a court filing [see loose records in the Maury County Courthouse Annex]. At that point Jesse and Frances moved somewhat briefly to Perry County, before moving back.]

B. Sam Will Savage (26 or 28 April 1864 - 15 February 1931) married 9 May 1894) Anna Farris, sister to Reps Waller Farris, q.v., herein.; and also of Sewell Walker Farris and possible et al. They were children of Luther A. Farris (1837 - 1902) and Maggie Cummins (born 1847). L.A. Farris is the son of Isaac R. Farris (1800 - 1897) and Malinda Waller; Maggie Cummins is dau. of Henry Cummins and Martha _____. [Michelle says, No, that Henry Cummins was married three times and that Maggie Cummins was the daughter of the third wife Susan Emily Pugh]. Isaac R. Farris was the son of Isaac Farris and _____.

the head of Keg Spring Branch in the old first district of Lewis County. Henry Shelby (cousin to Evelene Tucker, q.v. herein) tells of a wire trip device which Sam Will had set up between the top of the ridge behind their house and the barns by which he could transport sticks of cut tobacco from the ridge to the barn without having to haul it down with mule drawn teams (which would have been nearly impossible, given that the wagon would have been pushing the team rather than the team pulling. He had a wire, or likely two wires, mounted from the top of the ridge to which he hooked a clip that held a stick of tobacco (about 5 or 6 stalks split near their base so as to allow their being strung on the tobacco stick and hung in the barn to dry. I think that the weight of the stick coming down the ridge pulled a new clip up to the top. Henry described the "sing" that one stick of tobacco made racing down the ridge. James Delk is not quite sure from when this devise dates; Sam Will died when Henry was eight or so. James thinks he remembers having heard Allen Delk tell of the same "cable" device]

[This sounds like a cute device to sound like technology come to the country. In reality it probably represents about the only way that the crop could be raised on the ridge and lowered to the barn. As heavy as green burley tobacco was/is, if loaded on wagons in the conventional way, the crop would have likely been too heavy for the mules to hold back on the way down the ridge. James Delk remembers the road as being steep in the 1950's, 60's, and 70's. Only by using a devise to get the crop down one stick at a time with nothing to get in its way on the way down., could Sam Will Savage grow tobacco on the ridge without building a separate tobacco barn up there.]

[As an addition to the above list of children of Frances Catherine Delk and Jesse James Savage the following comment is added. On page 478 of the Hampshire Book, issued as a Tennessee State Bicentennial project in 1996, is the following which seems to be taken from a newspaper clipping of the Williamsport News section of some newspaper: 21 September 1877: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Savage buried their infant daughter at the J.B. Delk Cemetery, 17 district on last week. ... The reference to to "infant" daughter would seem to call into question whether this could be reference to Kate or Mary Elizabeth Savage, daughters of J.J Savage and Elizabeth Region since they would have in 1877 been in their 20's. There would seem to be enough space between Jesse, George, and May for another child to have fit. Also since Kate was killed by a horse the note that follows regarding Mary Lou Delk Southall's horse running away with her at after the burying would seem strained without mentioning the nature of Kate's death. All this is to ask if there were an additional daughter who died as an infant who is not named or listed in this list. Is there a grave in the Delk Cemetery that fits this description, Kate, Mary 'Beth, or some here unnamed daughter?]

- 1. Euyless Molder (born 31 December 1881) married on 6 December 1905 to Minnie Williams. No children

[A little survey across these pages may well reveal a smaller number of these prose filler in this section. That stems from the fact the James Delk had less contact with these lines than with almost any other part of the descendants of Jacob Benton Delk. Mr. Euyless and Mr. Willie Molder were the only two of the Molder he actually had the occasion to meet as a child. Allen and Paul Delk in some years made a somewhat annual trek to Bedford County to visit some of the kin and check of the graveyards and other details of the family. Because Allen had known these two Mr. Molder's through the Tennessee Farm Bureau, in which all three were somewhat active they visited in their homes. James Delk was very small when those visits involved him. The one real item he remembers about them was that Mr. Euyless Molder was widowed and live alone; he also had the first Sears catalogue that James had ever seen that said Atlanta, Georgia instead of Memphis, Tennessee [from where folks in Maury County ordered]. He stared at it while the grown folks visited --but he was scared to touch it, because "it was someone else's." They had had what Allen Delk described as some good farm land somewhere out in Bedford County, but in their late years both moved into town.

Benton Delk and Alma Anne Crowell, and are related to the Delk descendants only the extent that a number of them married into the Crowell family.]

[Note is made that the descendants of these three children who are not known to be related to the Delk and Crowell families are in this section shown in italic]

- H. George W. Molder (born 1878) married Melissa Stephenson
  - 1. Audrey Elizabeth Molder
  - 2. Mozell Molder
- I. Charles Anderson Molder (born 1882) married Isabella "Isa" Lock
  - 1. Maude E. Molder (born 1907- alive in June 1997) married 29 December 1929 James Percy Crowell (born 17 July 1903 - died ca early 1990's), son of Jacob Parsons Crowell and Amanda Tennessee Claxton; and grandson of Michael Crowell and Sarah R. Anderson (died 18 February 1907). Michael Crowell, q.v. herein, was the son of Samuel Crowel and Catharine Lentz, q.v. both herein. Sarah R. Anderson was the daughter of David Anderson and Isabella W. Rogers, q.v. both herein.

[James Percy Crowell --Percy, as he was known, was related to the Delk family in multiple ways as indicated by all the "q.v."s and came to know a great deal about the Crowell family. He and Allen Delk were in college in Murfreesboro in the mid-1920's. They each as old men told what a rounder the other was --but neither seemed fully willing to 'fess up to their own doings. They each seemed to carried to their graves their memories ]

[Allen Delk did tell how he and, we think, he roommate broke into the gym one Saturday (or Sunday) afternoon. It seems that there had been a party of some kind in the gym on the Friday night previous at which "brick ice cream" was served. They knew that there had been ice cream left over that was going to waste. Allen told how they went through a window up on the roof. (We are not sure what "brick ice cream" was but suppose that it was commercial cream that had already been formed into rectangular molds rather than been served directly from hand crank freezers. He also told of he and other college boys watching one of the female teachers trying to get back into a classroom building on the weekend. She tried every door and then went to a window on the ground level that opened into a basement classroom. As James Delk remembers hearing it she bent down and crawled through the window at which point all the boys hollered loudly. --and you thought only modern day teenagers were uncivil and crude. (One might check with Randall Crowell in Shelbyville as to what tales Mr. Percy managed to tell)]

[James Percy Crowell was a skilled woodcraftsman; James Delk remembers the furniture in his house that he had crafted --commercial grade items of polished quality. James Delk also remembers going to his home to visit. You needed to have somewhere else you had planned to go afterward. Mr. Percy always had lots he wanted to tell you. When you got ready to go he didn't mind looking at you and saying, "Sit down, I got some more to tell you." You soon learned that it helped to be able to say "Mr. Percy I got to be over at such and such a place in ten minutes."]

[Edward W. Carmack, for whom Edward seems to have likely been named, was a prominent TN political leader in the early 1900's who led the fight against liquor sales, and who was shot and killed on the streets of Nashville by the friends of the governor who had just defeated him. They were convicted but were instantly (within minutes) pardoned by the Governor Patterson. As a result of the ensuing outcry, within months Tennessee passed statewide prohibition of liquor.]

[Mack, Senior died young; his wife remarried and moved to Louisiana. All contact was lost]

[Said by V.R. Delk, with likely sourcing from Paul Delk, to have left home and disappeared. Annie Porter Delk Kennedy offers, "disappeared many years ago and no one ever heard of him that I know of. Uncle Dollar (J.V.) Delk said he read something about a 'Capt. E.B. Delk' on a ship, I think". Allen Delk said that when the pictures from either the Titanic or the Lusitania were published that he was told that Josh picked out one of men as "his son" but that a different name was attached thereto. One suspects that it was more a father wanting to find a son than actual fact. His immediate family seems to know nothing more, except as noted immediately above.]

    - a). (baby due March 1999).
  - 3). Kent Thomas Kirk (born 24 May 1973) married 28 February 1998 Xavia Alexa Rackley (born 19 February 1912).

2. Mayce Nell Delk (born 19 February 1911) married first Ollie Brown
  - a. Ollie Nell Brown married Stanley Hill
    - 1). Kelley Anne Hill
  - Mayce Nell Delk married second Earl Davis
  - Mayce Nell Delk married third Claude Lofton; . Lives in Cali.
- C. Monroe Joshua Delk (17 February 1877 - 25 March 1936, buried in the Sardis Cemetery, Ellis County, TX) married 28 June 1897 Lee Collier (29 March 1878 - 10 March 1940, also buried in the Sardis Cemetery), daughter of Richard "Dick" and Halley Jane Jones. They are said to have been first or 2nd cousins; Monroe's mother was Fannie Jones. This being so would make their descendants triple kin to the descendants of Talitha Delk Jones, q.v. herein below).
  1. Jones Poplin Delk (13 October 1900 - 4 February 1950) married first in 11 November to Jessie Campbell. Divorced; no children. Jones Poplin Delk married second 16 September 1935 to Jessie Hart (born 16 September 1901), daughter of Jeff Davis Hart and Liza Jane Harling..

[Jones was named with his mother's and his father's mother's maiden name and for the doctor who delivered him, Dr. Poplin. --When James Delk first saw his name he had assumed that possibly the name Poplin had derived from, or from the same source as, a community in Bedford County, TN near where Jones' grandfather J.J. Delk folks had lived, i.e. Poplins' Crossroads.]

[Monroe Joshua Delk was the County Road Commissioner for Ellis County for a number of years; he bought the store (and a farm) at Lone Elm, in Ellis County, TX in about 1900 and operated it as long as he lived. Afterward Jones ran the store and the farm. Monroe was said to have done well in the store and been very well fixed --until the Great Depression and drought of the 1930's --when he is said to have advanced credit to families who otherwise would have been utterly destitute. When he died in 1936 he was not hardly as "well fixed". The family was never able to recover much of what was "on the book" even after the hard times were behind them, and the families involved able to pay. One would suggest from a very safe distance that for his good heartedness he is counted for good, even if his own family may have wondered if they were one day going to have to do without. (They didn't; when he died he left 600 acres of farm land, the store, and a healthy, if reduced, fund balance. Remembrance of the Bible verse that says "I was young and now I am old, yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken nor His seed begging bread." --Psalm 37:25 seems in order just a little. When all the world has turned into Walmart-land some of us will come to regret the small town groceries, general merchandises, and hardware stores whose credit policies have saved lots of souls (at least in this life) [I'm sure lots of religion --but, not necessarily the pure and undefiled kind-- has also also been discussed on the porches of some of these establishments.]

- a. Monroe Jeff Delk married first June 1954 Wanda Jean Morrow. Has lived in San Antonio, TX for since ca. 1965 and is in the air conditioning business. Address: 7111 Avalanche Dr., San Antonio, TX 73828. Was 62 in 1998.

[Monroe Jeff was named for Monroe Joshua Delk, his paternal grandfather; and for Jeff Davis Hart, his maternal grandfather].

- 1). Monroe Jeff "Micky" Delk, Junior (born 2 July 1955) married 7 June 1974 Barbara Sutherling. They are now divorced.
  - a). Melani Delk (born 18 August 1976)
  - b). Joshua Delk (born 26 April 1979)

Monroe Jeff Delk, Jr. married second _____. They live at Rte. 3, Waxahachie, TX in the Lone Elm community.

Monroe Jeff Delk married second 28 February 1958 Eva Owen (born 1 May 1931).

  - 2). Jessie Rose Delk (born 2 December 1958) married 21 November 1979 Richard Deal (born 8 July 1955) --said to live in California.
    - a). Herman Louis Deal (born 14 March 1983).
  - 3). Teresa Mae Delk (born 25 October 1961) married 18 August 1979 Jerry Eavenson from Crowell, TX. They now live at New Braunfels, TX (830) 606-6209

    - b). Jerry Ray Evanson (born 14 July 1981)
  - 4). Eva Fern Delk (born 19 July 1964).
    - a). Joshua Delk
  - b. Lillian Louise "Louise" Delk married Wm. F. Little, son of Wm. Franklin Little, Senior and Ida Louella McKinnon. (They came to Dallas County, TX from Arkansas, although his ancestors came in part from Maury County, TN.) Bill and Louise live at 1205 Meadow Street, De Soto, TX; phone (972) 223-4985 and (972) 223-8119.

[She was named in part after Lillian Tune, Jones's first sweetheart --according to Miss Tune's statement after Jones died. She said that her parents objected to her marrying Jones. In fact she never married.]

- 1). Tammy Kay Little (born 12 October 1960) married 22 August 1987 Billy Alton Moran, Junior (born 24 January 1961.
  - a). Rebecca Nichole Moran (born 19 November 1991).
- 2). Nina Marie Little (born 28 November 1961) married 21 August 1981 James Mark "Mark" Wiseman (born 11 November 1959)
  - a). James Andrew Wiseman (born 4 April 1990)
  - b). Lisa Marie Wiseman (born 22 April 1993)

[Attached beneath the family listing was the following quote, that in this day when so many take pride in conflicting assertions, seems worthy of your attention: "Louise and Bill are members of the Ovilla Church of Christ. Billy and Tammy, and Mark and Nina are members of the Ovilla Church of Christ." Because I have seen my own sons do well, I know Louise takes pride in that quote. s/jv2]

[Interim note: When James Delk contacted Louise Delk Little for the first time she and William had just gotten in from a ten hour plane trip, returning from a two week mission trip to Romania, sponsored (I think by the church of Christ at Ovilla, TX, where William (Bill) has served as an elder. A careful observation of even the data herein will show that our family is not unlike most others; there are some black sheep. We suppose that it is too bad that some of the good deeds of others won't cover for some of us who are not so good. Certainly there are mothers everywhere who wish it were true. --Fathers too, compare Job 1:05:]

D. Alex Delk (born ca. 1879).

[This son was not in Paul K. Delk's list and is known to us only from the 1880 federal census; he may have died young or is possibly the same as Roland Delk, shown below from the Paul K. Delk list. From Louise Delk Little, "Somewhere back in memory, Dad said that Roland (had) a twin and he died at 6 months." We are not sure if that squares with this Alex given that Roland was born 6 March 1880 when the census seems to have been taken, if anything a little early in that community (given the ages of children less than one year old as shown by the census schedules). Could it be possible that Alex was born the year before Roland, but died "at 6 months".(and Jones was mistaken about their being twins?)

E. Joseph Earl Delk married Mamie Ballard.

1. J.B. Delk -male Died at age five.
- F. Lou Ella Delk (died at age 2 years, said to have been accidentally scalded to death. [Paul Delk's record says Lula Francis Delk] [Note from Annie Porter Delk Kennedy says that the family "was living at the Dickey place, n. Hampshire, TN which was later the Lon Brooks place, and finally the (William) Peeler's lived there." It is located on Lusk Branch Road (Goodman Lane) n. Hampshire, TN. James Delk remembers the place; the current house (the one built by Lon Brooks) is a full two story federal styled building that has been empty for probably thirty or forty years.). At a point after Josh Delk lived on the property, William Leftwich Delk lived on the the same tract, and in fact owned a large block of land reaching to the ridge between Lusk Branch and Dry Fork Creek.]

[Lon Brooks married Alice Galloway who was the daughter of Enoch Galloway and Hannah Judd, q.v. herein. This makes Alice the half sister to Elizabeth Vestal, wife of William Leftwich Delk, both q.v. herein. Given the dates involved, one may surmise that W.L. Delk acquired the land from Josh. Delk at the point he left for Texas. This might explain why their oldest son Albert, q.v. herein, was boarding at Isom to go to school there in 1894. Note is also here made that the full siblings of Alice Galloway ~~are listed~~ (at least in part) are contained herein above and contain names that are related to other segments of the Delk family.]

G. Roland Delk (born 6 March 1880 - 21 February 1929) [See notes above regarding Alex Delk]. He is said to have died in a sanitarium and never married. (Buried in Ovilla, TX)

[Interim note: I set out to call all the Kirk's in Waxahachie to try to make contact with descendants of Grace Delk and Robert Blair "Blair" Kirk after Sam Kennedy told me that Annie Porter said Josh went to Sardis, TX. There are several Sardis, Texas's, but others had indicated the "Uncle Josh went to Ellis County, Texas" or something like that. Mrs. Kenneth D. Kirk said yes that her husband was a cousin to Blair Kirk who married Grace Delk. Mrs. J.D. Kirk said yes that she knew the family; that graduated from high school with some of them; and that I should call a McCaleb lady in a nursing home somewhere close to Waxahachie or her daughter Mrs. Wayne Loyd. Mrs. Loyd referred me to Undia Yarbrough in Euless, TX whose phone number is (817) 283-4850 and not the number shown on the computer list, 6548). She seems to live with her daughter, __ White. She gave me two daughters of Grace Delk and Blair Kirk, Mrs. Ernest (Ruth) Blackerly [(817) 451-1920] and Mrs. James (Esther.) Soper [(817) 923-1394]. Mrs. Soper offers that she had 6 brothers and sisters including Thomas Edward Kirk [(817) 451-0645] and Mrs. Jimmy (Ann) Johnson (817) 536-9642]. Mrs. Soper says Grace Delk has been dead 10 years, that she wrote lots of Paul Delk, that the Kirk's were related to Tennessee Kirks, and she was kin to Cathey's and named Mumford and Tom Cathey, that she knew Tennie Chapin. She says that Tom Ed Kirk has visited back in Tennessee. She also confirmed what is typed above regarding Monroe Joshua Delk and other children of Josh Delk and Fannie Jones except Alex Delk did not garner a reaction.]

[Allen Delk said that he, his bro. Paul, and cou. Annie Porter Delk (who provided so of the record noted herein, met him on the street in Columbia, TN when Allen was small (likely at the time of the meeting noted above, i.e. summer of 1913) and that he bought them the first chocolate ice cream Allen had ever seen (but Josh ask for, "A good cold glass of buttermilk." ). Allen could not imagine a man drinking buttermilk as they were pouring out to the hogs at their place.]

[As this record was being compiled we knew only limited information about Josh Delk and Fannie Jones's children. Therefore more prose was included. As we have come to know more about the children it still feels like we are including much 'filler' type information here and in the Appendix following. One supposes that because he was a Baptist preacher [Some of his folks report that some of the Baptists in Texas complained that he got off into ~~too~~ much of the doctrine taught in churches of Christ. In fact much/most of his later descendants became active in the churches of Christ (Note is called here to memo on Louise Delk Little, q.v. herein two pages above.)] AND because he had left Middle Tennessee and moved to Texas that more than the normal amount of family folk lore tended to be accumulated. [That happens when you aren't there to defend yourself.] Know that we recognize that there is much folk lore recorded here.]

[See Appendix for more references. This seems like a place to remind you that other information is there included about other ancestors.]

V. William David* Delk (known as Billy Hunk) (19 June 1842 -28 January 1909) married first 12 October 1865 in Maury Co., TN to Candis Melvina Williams (born 8 February 1845 - 13 January 1887)

[James Delk does not know who Candis Williams's parents were, but it seems worthy of note that three years after they were married that W.D. Delk was named as one of the first deacons in a Baptist Church organized in the Greenfield Bend in September of 1868. The first preacher was J.C.R. Williams. Given W.D. "Billy Hunk"'s age (25) one wants to look first to see if J.C.R. Williams was possibly her father]

[William David Delk was a veteran of the Civil War and is said to have been wounded in the battle for Fort Donaldson on 14 and 15 February 1862 when a shell hit the breastworks behind which he was fighting. He was taken home and is said to have never fully recovered from the wounds.]

[*Regarding William Delk's middle name, most of the records said William David. Annie Porter Delk Kennedy, his brother Sam's granddaughter recorded the name as William Didymus Delk. The only hard copy record dating from then that James V. Delk has seen, the Liberty Baptist Church minute book says W.D. at every point.]

- A. Thomas Delk (born ca. 1868). [This son appears in the 1880 census; he was mentioned by none of the family and likely died young. Annie Porter Kennedy's record says he died from tuberculosis]
- B. Elizabeth Ann "Betty" Delk (1869 -1938) married 30 June 1892 Tom Bates (26 May 1849 - ca. 1909) at Beardstown in Perry Co., TN. -No children.

[After Tom Bates died Betty lived alone, but late in life she lived with her nephew Masell Floyd, q.v. herein. Harold Floyd, q.v. herein, expressed fond memories "of the old lady who smoked a corn cob pipe all the time." Sam McGill bought her house [which had formerly been John Morton's, who married a Crowell, house] after she died. T. Wiley, et al had also lived there at one point.]

- C. Fannie (or possibly Faney) [Likely from Frances] Isabella "Isabella" or "Izzy" Delk (23 October 1871 - 25 December 1904) married Henry Wilson Floyd. (28 September 1852 - 12 February 1922). Henry Floyd had been previously married to Celia Weatherly, q.v. herein below, with whom he had had three children shown here in

[Celia Weatherly was the only daughter of __ Weatherly and Lucretia Love. After __ Weatherly died, Lucretia Love married Jacob Benton Delk. Notes say she lived for only a short period of time after their marriage. Translation: Henry Floyd married second the granddaughter of the stepfather of his first wife.]

- b. Janet Floyd m Dr. Jas Garrett Bruce
  - 1). Jimmy Bruce
  - 2). Anne Bruce

[After Celia Weatherly died, Henry Floyd married Isabella Delk]

4. Robert Evan Floyd (13 January 1892 - 20 May 1920). -- Never married. He was killed in an accident which occurred as he returned from World War I. As he stepped from the bus as a returning soldier he was hit and killed by a speeding car. Is speeding the right word for a car in 1920?
5. Masell Walker "Masell" Floyd (25 February 1895 - 10 February 1948) married Bessie MacDame (10 October 1890 - 10 October _____)

[Notice her birth date and the date of her death. Few people both are born and die on the same day. Howard Porter Delk, q.v. herein was born, married, and died on the same 19th of September --is 1893, 1920, & 1963. Sam Will Voss's oldest son, Conner, q.v., died on his wedding anniversary within an hour or so of the time of his wedding.]

- a. Harold D. Floyd married Mary Sue Scott
  - 1). Peggy Sue Susie Floyd married Bryan Jackson
    - a). Christopher Jackson ca. 1993
    - b). Suzanna Jackson 2 years old
  - 2). Mary Mills "Mollie" Floyd. --Not married.

6. Ross F. "Rossie" Floyd. [Maude Lovell says he was called Ricie or something close to that.] married August 1925 to Alice Fountain.
  - a. Mary Rena Floyd married Robert Everett Smith.
    - 1). Bryan Smith
    - 2). Stacie Smith (daughter)

[Harold D. Floyd, 2891 Williamsport Pike, Columbia, TN, 38401 reported that he was told that his grandmother Isabella died due to complications to the last son's birth. The full nature or details thereof were not made known to him. After Isabella's death Henry Floyd married third to Hettie Choate; they had no children.]

- D. Jacob Delk (born ca. 1873) married 13 July 1899 Susie Lawson
  - 1) Lou Willie Delk married __ Cavender
    - a.
    - b. -boy and girl

[Jacob Delk's middle initial is likely B, based on the reference to "Jacob Delk (J.B.)" in the Liberty Baptist minute book as having been received into membership by "Experience and Baptism" at a point after 1881 and most likely just before 1891; the side note written about or before 1916 says "died" --Annie Porter Kennedy's notes say "from tuberculosis". There are others named J.B. Delk but only his age range fits for one being received into membership in a Baptist congregation in about 1890. He went by "Little Jake".]

- E. Talitha Ophelia Delk [See spelling note below] (16 October 1874 - 29 August 1949) married October 1896 James Ronald "Jim" Lovell (7 October 1871 near Brentwood, Williamson County, TN - 25 June 1950 ~~near Brentwood, Williamson Co., TN~~), son of W.H. Lovell (born 10 November 1844) and Mary A Guthrie.(22 March 1845 - 30 December 1899), dau. of John N. Guthrie and Elizabeth Wolf. Elizabeth Wolf was the dau. of William Wolf and __ Mayfield, early settlers of Williamson Co., TN..

[Cross reference this last note to the notes that follow Nina Mayfield, wife of Howard P. Delk, both q.v. above. This doesn't show conclusively a kinship; but could prompt one to seek further. to determine if the wife of William Wolf were a sister to Samuel Mayfield, q.v. herein. Also one could ask the relationship between Dycie Rhodes, wife of Samuel Mayfield and Will Rhodes, husband of Pearl Delk, daughter of W.D. Delk and Savanna Lynn.]

[Talitha Delk, as taken from tombstone, was spelled Telitha in the Liberty Baptist Church records which are the only other records concurrent to the period of her life that J.V. Delk has; she was surely named for her aunt Talitha. The correct spellings of each may be different from that shown here; there seem to be multiple spellings for both individuals]

[Jim Lovell operated the grist mill at Kettle Mills next to the large general store formerly operated by R.A. Kennedy & John Alex.. Delk, and their families. He was brother to Earnest W. Lovell, husband of Ella Voss, both q.v. herein]

[It is said that George Delk, Talitha's uncle invited Jim Lovell home one Sunday for dinner and that Talitha had fixed an ice cream cake which Jim found especially good. When asked, later in life, what he saw in Telitha Delk that attracted him he sighted her ice cream cake. For whatever reason Telitha resisted requests in late years to make an ice cream cake when asked to do so by her children. At the time that she married Jim Lovell, Telitha's mother was dead and her father had remarried and had started his new family. Some reports, including J.C. Kennedy, indicate that Telitha was living at and keeping house for her uncle George. He had a large house (where Buddy Morrow now lives; where Manson Morrow lived in recent eras). That would be fully consistent with Jim's reasoning, noted above.]

1. Ronald Edward "Ronald" Lovell, ~~Junior~~ (12 July 1897 - 26 October 1977) married Maude Hoover (born 17 August 1899 --still living basically alone and driving September 98, age 99). Maude Hoover was sister to Agnes, Marcy, Mat, and Ruth Hoover, all q.v. herein.

10. Tom Rye Lovell (30 October 1914 - 4 May 1963) married Elloise Warren (She was from Hickman County)- no children

[Tom Rye Lovell appears to have been named at least in part for Thomas Clarke Rye, governor of Tennessee 1915 - 1919 and candidate at the time of Tom Rye's birth. Governor Rye is described in the 1995-6 Tennessee Blue Book published by the state as one who, before being elected governor, had "acquired a reputation as a man who upheld the law."]

[Iola Rhodes Burrough, q.v. herein below, remembered her aunt as "A true Southern lady.]

[The Hampshire Book, to which references are made herein elsewhere, offers the following on page 525 as regards a chronology of events in the history of Hampshire: Hampshire girls basketball team went to State Tournament. Lost in final game to Peabody Demonstration School by 2 points (Score 26-24). Members of the team: Neva Thompson, Grace Lovell, Ann Pogue, Elese Patton, Ophelia Lovell, Mary Hughes, Camille Grimmel, Elise Smith, __ Kirk (taken for March 28, 1927 Daily Herald, Columbia, TN). In addition to Grace and Ophelia several other of these young ladies are indirectly woven into the Delk family. Neva Thompson is related, we think, to Ophelia's husband; Camille Grimmel is the daughter of Sue Cathey, q.v. herein.

F. W. Otey Delk (born ca. 1879; said to have been 7 months old at time of 1880 census), said to have died young without issue according to J.C. Kennedy's handwritten history, from-- according to Annie Porter Kennedy --tuberculosis. The Liberty Baptist Church minute book list Ody Delk as being added as a member in September 1893 "by experience and baptism"; the 1897 membership list lists a W.O. Delk with a side note written later saying "died April 1898" The reference to April 1898 might be consistent to J.C. Kennedy's reference. None of this tells for what the W. stood; one might surmise it to be William; that would explain the use at age 7 months of his middle name while retaining the initial initial.

[As a side note that related to this entire effort but to none of it in particular, Joe H. Delk noted that J.C. Kennedy --references to whose handwritten history has been repeatedly made-- was the only man who could set a barrel of sugar on the counter at the Kettle store.

For the record the the grist mill and store in the Kettle during much his life was operated by his family as reference to his history will show. Also for the record even up until the early 1970's barrels were used by the Columbia Mill and Elevator Co. in Columbia, TN to ship flour to a certain few locales in south Alabama. The barrel was assumed to weigh eight pounds so that a "barrel of flour" had gross weight of 200 with a net weight of 192 lbs. of flour. In the era when the barrel was the standard unit for flour, "a half barrel" would be 96 lbs.; flour was sacked in fractions thereof: 96, 48, and 24 lbs. In the 1970 era when James Delk worked in a rural grocery store in Hampshire, TN older people still asked for "24 lb sacks flour", referring to the 25 lbs. then sold with towels attached. But you haven't seen many flour sacks that size lately either.

In an earlier era sugar was also shipped in barrels. Transportation was rougher than modern trucks and cars. Paper sacks used today were not efficient. The actual package volumes of flour, meal, and sugar have declined. When did you last buy a ten pound sack of sugar? Know that not many years ago that was the standard unit. But sugar is much more dense than flour; think about the difference between the SIZE of a five pound sack of sugar and that of flour. Put simply a barrel of sugar weighed more than the same sized barrel of flour. We don't know how much it weighed, but somewhere near 250 lbs. might be a reasonable guess. J.C. "Clarence" Kennedy could set a barrel of that weight up on a store counter --and do it again tomorrow.]
